Allianz4All

Allianz4All is Allianz General Insurance Company (Malaysia) Berhad's (Allianz General) business transformation journey to embrace Universal Values. Insurance products under this program will be universal value-based, to meet the needs of all Malaysians. The key enhancements to align with a universal value-based structure are as follows:

- Part of the premiums received will be specifically allocated to a Claims Allocation Fund (CAF). This is considered as a pooling of monies to meet the claims commitments as mutually agreed in the policy contract. The balance premium will go to Allianz General as management fees and to pay for related business expenses.
- Premiums will be invested into portfolios that are sustainably and responsibly managed. This includes keeping premiums received in Islamic bank accounts.
- If claims for a defined period is lower than the amount allocated to the CAF, a portion of the resulting surplus will be distributed by Allianz General at its absolute discretion either as a refund to policyholders or charitable organizations as guided by the policyholder's selection of charitable categories at the time of application. The approach for the distribution of the resulting surplus will vary according to product and surplus amount (if any).

Allianz General will administer the insurance product specified in this document and undertake any financial transactions, including investments in Islamic permissible instruments, and allocating an appropriate amount of the premium to the CAF.

Our claims commitment to policyholders under this new structure remains unchanged from its present structure. There will also be no impact on the premium the customer pays for a product.

Premium Received

Paid premium refers to premiums received by Allianz General where part of the premium is allocated to the CAF, which is considered as a pooling of monies to meet the claims commitments as mutually agreed in the policy contract. The balance premium will go to Allianz General as management fees and to pay for related business expenses.

Premium Allocation

Allianz General will determine the portion of premium to be allocated to the CAF based on its internal analysis. The percentage of premium allocated for claims for this product is 40%. In the event of inadequate funds to cover claims, the Company will top up the CAF.

Surplus from Claims Allocation Fund (CAF)

CAF surplus refers to any excess funds available in the CAF after deducting paid and outstanding claims, and statutory reserves over a defined period. The treatment of any resulting surplus from the CAF will vary according to product. For Group Personal Accident Allianz4All, Allianz General will distribute the surplus equally to Allianz General and at its absolute discretion as guided by the policyholder's selection of one of the following charitable categories at the time of application:

- Education: Improving access to education
- People with Disabilities: Enhancing social inclusion and socioeconomic opportunities
- Relief: Ad-hoc relief for public health, natural disasters, or emergencies
- No preference (this will be the default option if none of the above are selected, and the company will distribute the surplus as it deems appropriate)

Allianz General will determine the surplus annually. The amount distributed to each charitable category will depend on the proportion of policyholders selecting each category. The amount of surplus for each year (if any) will be disclosed on Our website, together with a list of charitable organisations/programmes benefitting from it.
