Industrials companies also outperformed the benchmark after May IPI rose 3.0% Year-on-Year, driven by a rise in manufacturing output. Manager's Comments

Equity

Both external and domestic macro backdrop remain challenging and we do not foresee much improvement in the short-term. 100 days of the New PH government, changes of GLC management team and 2Q2018 reporting season will be key events that investors will be focusing in August. On the fund flow, we are maintaining our view that global outflows from emerging markets, particularly for Malaysia, may be at a tail end in the short term hence we taking the opportunity to deploy cash gradually into the local markets and increasing overall equity exposure. We continue to prefer big cap companies with strong fundamentals in sectors such as Power & Renewable Energy, Technology and Industrials. We maintain our view that longer term; Malaysia equities could outperform regional peers given better risk premiums as a result of better governance.

Fixed Income

On fixed income outlook, we still think that Bank Negara Malaysia will likely hold policy rate unchanged at 3.25% for the rest of 2018. With consumer inflation moderated to 0.8% YoY post GST removal, we expect 2H2018 inflation to come in lower compared to 1H2018. We also take comfort from technical factor such as low supply of government bonds in the 2H2018 to support the local fixed income market. That said, bond investors are still keeping an eye on the government fiscal pledge which is to maintain the deficit ratio not more than 2.8% of 2018 GDP.

Lastly on fixed income strategy, we view that the credit risk environment has improved for certain sectors with the new government trying to take a pragmatic approach in keeping their manifesto promises. The portfolio will continue to overweight fundamental over technical and valuation when it comes to taking credit risk, and may continue to add exposure on Issuers which we are comfortable with. On interest rate, we will hold a neutral-to-slightly-overweight duration portfolio against benchmark as both fundamental and technical factors are supporting the local rates environment. That said, we are still assessing the developed market interest rates trend as any negative surprises will still impact on the local bond market.
