

Frequently Asked Questions– Medical Home Monitoring Service for Dengue

1. What are the criteria for home dengue management under Allianz Care@Home?

The service is limited to eligible policyholders who are diagnosed with dengue that meets the following criteria:

- Patient is between 16 to 59 years old
- Not immunocompromised
- Well controlled co-morbidity
- Have at least one (1) family member or caregiver at home
- Patient able to perform activities of daily living (“ADL”)
- Adequate platelet count
- No severe dengue symptoms such as confusion, severe abdominal pain, bleeding and shock

2. What if I am not qualified for the home dengue management?

If the condition warrants for admission, patient may proceed for hospital admission and the usual process of obtaining Guarantee Letter (“GL”) request remains status quo. If member wishes to opt for Speedoc’s other services, it would be on self-pay basis.

3. When can I call Speedoc’s medical assistance center to request the service?

You can call Speedoc’s medical assistance center (+60 11 4166 1178) at any time. However, for the doctor house-call visit, it is only available from Monday to Sunday (including Public Holiday) from 8am – 8pm.

4. What are the documents needed to be completed?

Once Speedoc’s team arrives at a patient’s home, the patient just need to sign the Pre-Authorization Form (PAF) and Speedoc’s Consent Form.

5. When will the doctor or nurse come to my house after I request the service from Speedoc?

For the first visit, Speedoc will confirm your appointment for doctor house-call visit once they confirm the eligibility or your insurance policy and their doctor’s availability. This process may take 1 -3 hours to confirm your appointment. Once your appointment is confirmed, the doctor will take approximately 60 - 90 minutes to arrive at your house.

6. Is Speedoc able to issue medical certificate (MC) for patients under Allianz Care@Home?

Yes, Speedoc is able to facilitate either a physical MC or via email.

7. Do I still need to perform blood test after being suspected with dengue by a doctor/clinic?

Yes, even after you are suspected to have dengue by previous healthcare provider, Speedoc still need to carry out the blood test to determine the severity of your medical condition. If the results shows that you are not eligible for the home service program due to the severity of your medical condition, the medical team will advise accordingly.

8. Do I still need to request for a Guarantee Letter when I activate Speedoc for Allianz Care@Home?

No. Allianz has established a workflow with Speedoc where GL is not required for Allianz Care@Home. Unless if the patient is being escalated to be admitted into a hospital, Speedoc will coordinate with Allianz for the admission GL.

9. What sort of tests will be conducted in the first assessment and how long for the results?

The initial test would include:

- Blood test for dengue fever diagnosis (FBC+Dengue IgG,IgM,NS1)
- Blood test for inflammatory marker (CRP)
- COVID-19 RTK Tests
- Complete history with physical examination

Once the medical team has completed the examination and collected your blood sample, it will take up to 5 hours to receive the lab test result. By assessing the severity of the dengue condition, the medical team will advise accordingly if a hospital admission is required.

10. What happens during the monitoring period of Allianz Care@Home?

For the first visit, a doctor and a nurse will perform physical examination, checking your vitals and collecting your blood sample. For the following days, a qualified nurse will come to your home daily for a review and blood test collection.

This will be followed with tele-consultation to review your blood tests result by a doctor. You will also be provided remote monitoring devices to monitor your blood pressure, temperature, glucose level and oxygen saturation for the duration of the period.

You will be provided a direct number to contact a medical personnel in charge, so you can contact them during any emergency.

11. What happens if during the dengue home care management, the patient develops severe symptoms?

The patient or caregiver should immediately contact the Speedoc medical team. Speedoc will determine if the patient requires an urgent home visit after a tele-consultation.

In the event the patient's medical condition worsened and can no longer be able to be treated at home, patient will be advised to be admitted to a hospital and the Speedoc medical team will notify Allianz for the admission. Speedoc will arrange ambulance services if needed.

12. Will there be a follow-up by Speedoc after the patient is discharged?

Yes. Speedoc will arrange a follow-up call 3 days after the patient is discharged to monitor the recovery. Patient can access to Speedoc anytime thereafter if they have any issue.

13. Which area does Allianz Care@Home service cover?

This service is available in Klang Valley, Penang, Ipoh, Negeri Sembilan, Melaka and Johor at the moment. More locations will be made available in due course.
